

STEP 8: Following the connection diagram install the inter-cell and module to module cables.

STEP 9: Finally install the Plexiglas shields on the frames working from the bottom up.

Note: Shields are not required. The AGM rack systems are provided with insulated intercell connector cables so protection is already in place.